Blue Cross Blue Shield of Massachusetts' Skills Based Volunteer Program Lends Professional Support and Expertise to Resource-Strapped Community Based Organizations

BOSTON — May 5, 2014 — Blue Cross Blue Shield of Massachusetts (BCBSMA) announced today the 11 nonprofit organizations selected as partners in this year's Skills-Based Volunteers program. The initiative, now in its fourth year, matches the expertise of BCBSMA associates with the business needs of the nonprofit organizations, providing them with the resources they need to more effectively serve the Massachusetts community.

"The 34 Blue Cross associates participating in the program this year have highly sought after business skills," said Jeff Bellows, Vice President of Corporate Citizenship at BCBSMA. "These volunteer projects are designed to maximize the impact of these unique skills on an issue that is critical to the participating nonprofit's growth."

The Skills-Based Volunteer program is part of BCBSMA's overall civic engagement initiative. All associates are supported and encouraged to be engaged in the community. The company offers paid time off to volunteer and provides opportunities for all employees to get involved. Volunteering is one component of a broader Corporate Citizenship strategy that also includes focused community investments, coordinated employee giving and environmental sustainability work.
