

Blue Cross Blue Shield of Massachusetts Named A Best Place to Work For Disability Inclusion

Company received a top score on the Disability Equality Index

BOSTON, July 23, 2019 /PRNewswire/ -- Blue Cross Blue Shield of Massachusetts was recognized as a "Best Place to Work" for disability inclusion by the Disability Equality Index. A joint initiative of the American Association of People with Disabilities and Disability:IN, the index conducts a comprehensive annual benchmarking survey that measures workplace disability inclusion policies and practices.

"We are thrilled to be named to the DEI's list of best places to work for disability inclusion as a first-time participant," said Sue Sgroi, chief human resources officer and senior vice president of organizational effectiveness at Blue Cross. "We are committed to fostering a workplace where associates of all abilities feel included, respected and empowered to bring their authentic selves to work. Our leadership team and disabilities employee resource group – Empowering Abilities – have worked tirelessly to drive disabilities awareness through our programs and policies, ensure our buildings are safe and accessible, and create equal employment opportunities for the disability community."

The DEI measures an organization's self-reported adoption of inclusive policies and practices for people with disabilities, offering companies a transparent, annual benchmarking tool to measure their progress on disabilities inclusion. To earn a top score, companies must display best-in-class commitments to culture and leadership, accessibility, employment practices, community engagement and supplier diversity.
